The leading LATAM & Caribbean Security Event in the Region

The Latin America and Caribbean Security Summit 2014 will be assessing the current security landscape and threats in the Caribbean, Central and South America region. The event will include two days of high level conference presentations from Government, Military, Police and Security Professionals from across the region. Key areas to be covered include: counter-narcotics, maritime & penitentiary security, challenges faced by the national police and armed forces. Attendees of the event will have the opportunity to meet with key decision makers and learn about the latest challenges, developments and solutions in the region's security sector. Running alongside the Conference will be an Exhibition showcasing the latest technologies and solutions in international security provision. Extensive networking opportunities are incorporated within the event.

Why is this event taking place in Miami?

The Latin America and Caribbean Security Summit is taking place in Miami the 'unofficial capital of Latin America'. Miami provides a conveniently located meeting hub for security professionals from both Latin America and the Caribbean to meet and discuss the latest security challenges across the wider region. By taking place in Miami the Summit also provides the opportunity for them to source the very latest and best international technologies and solutions.
